THE SEISMOGRAPH

INSTRUMENT WHICH TELLS OF EARTHQUAKES.

Every Movement of the Earth Is Accurately Recorded at Washington Office—Record of San Francisco Earthquake.

If science has not as yet discovered any method by which the coming of an earthquake can be foretold, it has perfected a delicate instrument which with the utmost accuracy tells the story of the vibrations when they do occur. This instrument is the seismograph, and the record which it has left of the recent upheaval at San Francisco has occupied the attention of scientists since then and drawn the eyes of the general public to the instrument itself, and people are asking what the seismograph is like and how it works.

It seems wonderful that an instrument located at Washington could be able to record the earthquake at San Francisco, but such is the case, in fact no vibration of the earth surface anywhere on the globe, however slight, goes unnoticed by this sensitive little earthquake detector. Up to the time of the upheaval which leveled the Pacific coast metropolis the delicate needle of the seismograph had been tracing long, straight white lines on the gelatinized surface of the record sheet. Wednesday morning, when it suddenly became agitated at eight o'clock 19 minutes and 20 seconds, and began to make more or less elongated waves. At 8:25 o'clock the strong waves began, and the recording needle moved rapidly back and forth across the sheet. Then followed the most violent waves between 8:32 and 8:35 o'clock, seventy-fifth meridian time, as is shown by the record. At one time the motion of the needle was so vigorous that its point went off the sheet, which it kept in motion by a clock machine, and the point did not return to the sheet until there was a secondary lull in the great disturbance. Then, when the needle had resumed its tracings, the earth vibrations and waves continued until 12:35, when the agitations ceased.

Each of the lines on the record sheet represents an hour of time, the movement of the sheet keeping time with the tick of the connected clock. The units of time are marked on this sheet, which is covered with gelatine, and thus the observer is enabled to tell just when the earthquakes began and when they ended by the markings made by the needle point.

This instrument, which is said to be one of the finest in the world, was installed by Prof. Willis L. Moore, chief of the United States weather bureau, and is under the immediate control and supervision of the earthquake or seismographic division of the bureau. Prof. C. F. Marvin is head of this division, and since the San Francisco disaster has shown and described the instrument to many visitors. It is installed in a basement apartment away under the weather bureau building far removed from the noisy hurly-burly of the streets, and is practically a mechanical recess.

This instrument is of a very superior type, and gives an accurate record of the movement of the earth at the pendulum in the horizontal plane. The mechanical principles involved in the construction of a seismograph of this type were first developed and applied to the measurement of earthquakes in the latter part of 1880 by James A. Ewing, then professor of mechanical engineering at the University of Tokyo, but now professor of mechanism and applied mechanics at the University of Cambridge, England. Numerous modifications have since been incorporated in the instrument by Gray, Omori and others, and in its present form it is well adapted to measure and record all kinds of earthquakes, except, perhaps, the most destructive, and is especially suited to register the feeble, unfelt earthquakes which frequently occur in all parts of the world.

The instrument in the basement room of the weather bureau is installed on separate castings secured to thick blocks of stone cemented firmly into the concrete floor of the building and projecting but a few inches above the floor level. The foundation of the instrument is separate from the building, being far down in the earth, so that it will not be affected by artificial disturbances.

The extreme sensitiveness of the seismograph is shown in the following statement made by Prof. Marvin: "The extreme sensitiveness to tilting is exhibited in several ways. The weight of the observer almost anywhere on the floor of the small room in which the instrument is installed suffices to tilt the pendulum enough to show on the record, a large displacement is produced by standing at one side of the pedestal."

EVER WATCHFUL.

A Little Care Will Save Many Hopkingsville Readers Future Trouble.

Watch kidney secretions. See they have the amber hue of health. The discharges not excessive or infrequent.

Contain no "brick-dust like" sediment. Doan's Kidney Pills will do this for you.

They watch the kidneys and cure them when they're sick.

Hopkingsville testimony proves it. J. W. Tunks, of 312 W. Seventh St., who is employed at M. C. Forbes' planing mill, says: "The condition of my health was such as to cause me a great deal of worry about my future. I had an almost constant aching across the small of my back and the kidney secretions were highly colored, excessive and irregular, in fact, the disorder was so pronounced that it had been said it bordered on diabetes. I also suffered at times with indigestion which caused me a great deal of distress. At one time I was scarcely able to do any work at all for nearly a year. I doctored and tried various remedies but nothing did me any permanent good until I used Doan's Kidney Pills, which I procured at L. A. Johnson's drug store. I had them only a few days when I noticed a change for the better and by the time I had finished the box I found they had brought about so decided an improvement in my condition as to convince me of their real worth and I am more than thankful for the relief that I have received."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50c. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Trigg county local option election will be held September 15.

Unknown Friends.

There are many people who have used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy with splendid results, but who are unknown because they have hesitated about giving a testimonial of their experience for publication. These people, however, are none the less friends of this remedy. They have done much toward making it a household word by their personal recommendations to friends and neighbors. It is a good medicine to have in the home and is widely known for its cures of diarrhoea and all forms of bowel trouble. Sold by L. L. Elgin and Anderson & Fowler, the up-to-date druggists of Hopkingsville.

The Best Remedy for Bowel Trouble.

Mr. M. F. Borroughs, an old and well known resident of Bluffton, Ind., says: "I regard Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy as the very best remedy for bowel trouble. I make this statement after having used the remedy in my family for several years. I am never without it. For sale by L. L. Elgin and Anderson & Fowler, up-to-date druggists at Hopkingsville."
